Important Foreign News.

The British mail steamer Liverpool 2d, arrived at Halifax yesterday, with Liverpool dates to the 2d.

The news is confirmed that Garibaldi had entered Palermo and established his headquarters there. The populace fought for him and took the royal palace from the King's troops and burnt it. The bombardment from the Neapolitan vessels of war continued at the latest advices. In the mean time the successes of Garibaldi will electrify the liberals throughout the island, and we may soon look for the entire expulsion of the royal troops from the island, while the fires of revolution will have been kindled throughout the dominion of the King of Naples. Success to Garibaldi.

The Chinese have rejected all the propositions of the English ultimatum, and we may look for active hostilities.

A Falsehood Nailed.

The opponents of Mr. Lincoln are evidently preparing to assail him with slanders innumerable. Several stories of this kind have been disposed of; the Chicago Times is the manufacturer of the fabrication alluded to below. It is a mean and cowardly way of electioneering and disgraces its authors alone. The following official document has been sent to the Chicago Journal from Washington:

TO THE PUBLIC.

My attention has been called to a statement which appeared in the Chicago Times, as editorial, on the 29th day of May, 1860, that Hon. Abraham Lincoln, while a member of the 30th Congress, purchased three pairs of boots, "they being paid for out of the public money," by his order, and charged to him as stationary; and further, that the said boots are charged to his account on the books of the House of Representatives.

Knowing these charges to be false, I deem it my duty to make the following statement under oath:

1st.—The stationery used by members of the House of Representatives is furnished them by the post master of the House, who settles with them.

2d.—A ledger account is kept between the several members and the post master, and every article is charged to them on the day it is obtained.

3d.—The books of the post master of the House of Representatives of the 30th Congress, by virtue of my office, are now in my possession. I have carefully examined the same, and therein an account against the Hon. Abraham Lincoln, in which the usual items of stationery are charged to him, but there are no such items charged as alleged by the writer of the article in the Chicago Times.

I therefore pronounce the allegations sheer fabrications, devoid of truth, and destitute of foundation in fact.

J. M. LUCAS,
Post Master H. of R.
DISTRICT OF COLUMBIA,
Washington Co.
Sworn and subscribed before me, this 7th day of June, 1860.
F. S. MYER,
Justice of the Peace.

A PROTEST.—A protest is published in a late number of the Kent (Md.) News, signed by twenty-one residents of Kent county, and on behalf of sundry citizens, solemnly protesting against the withholding by postmasters of certain newspapers pronounced incendiary by the grand jury of that county at its last session. They declare that they feel "degraded" by the refusal of the postmaster to deliver their papers, and claim them as their property.

THE BLEACHING PROCESS.—The editor of the Monroe Sentinel has just returned from a trip to Baltimore, and has traveled over six hundred miles in the slave states of Virginia and Maryland, and in all that distance he saw not more than two dozen full blooded negroes, although there were thousands of mulattoes and not a few quadroons. Will some of these democratic editors, who every three or four months chronicle with much shuddering the marriage of some couple of mixed colors, at the north, tell us where all those thousands of mulattoes come from?

INVESTIGATING REPORT.—The report of the Dane county investigating committee is now out. The Madison Patriot says it shows that Dane county has been swindled over $25,000, and about half that sum is secured. The report also shows that the present county treasurer is free from all charges, and has no doubt done his duty honestly and fairly. The small apparent deficiency under Mr. Dunning's administration is traceable wholly to some mistake in footing up, and not to any design.

THE DOUGLAS DEMOCRACY held a meeting in Boston the other night. Hon. Reverdy Johnson of Baltimore, who is very desirous of serving his country in some capacity, made a speech. He reiterated republican charges against the administration very strongly. Hon. James M. Cavanaugh, of Minnesota, whom some of our readers know, told the audience that "Mr. Lincoln is as honest a man as God ever made, and the republicans did well in nominating him."

POPULATION OF LA CROSSE.—The population of the 1st ward of La Crosse is estimated at 1160, and the whole city is estimated at 6,500.

THE SIXTH SENSE.

I was a close student at school, a young, ambitious lad of sixteen, somewhat homespun, but strong in uprightness, and conscious of power. My dear father was sick, and gradually undergoing that metamorphosis which the shallow thinker calls death. It was a stormy day in January; the snow had fallen two feet deep, and I started for my home, eight miles distant. My father had written to me that he wanted to see me; he wanted to give me an injunction after injunction not to forget my duties to him, in the care of his wife—my mother. He need not have sent it; I could not—never can forget him or her. Death! A man such as my father never dies. He lives in his counsels, full of wisdom from wide observation and varied experience, constituting ample experience in his principles, which were absolute, as great moral truths are—in his mistakes, which were very few and small. His desire to see me, growing out of a feeling that he might at any hour "pass on," and to give me counsel, was natural but not necessary. But his slightest wish was law to me; and I started for home as I have said, on foot. We were walking in the snow on an "unbroken snow-path." Before I reached the door I thought my body would tire out completely, but it did not, I accomplished it.

I ate my supper, chatted awhile with my parents, and went to bed in my old bedroom. My father and mother I left in the kitchen, gratified at my arrival, and proud of me.

I fell asleep, awoke, awoke and dressed myself, came into the kitchen, took a seat between my father and mother. They looked surprised, and inquired why I had left my bed.

Said I—"Has nobody been here since I went to bed?"

"Well," replied I, "there will somebody come, and that is why I have left my bed; at least, I have dreamed there would, and the dream is no illusion to me, but a fierce reality."

My father smiled as if incredulous, yet as though he asked no answer or better defense than his boy. At that instant my mother, a very cautious woman, heard a rump at the door and stepping to it, as I supposed, to inquire who was there and what was wanted, instead, opened the door, and in came a terrible gust of wind and snow, for the night was hideous, and with them in marched a woman.

She walked half way from the door to the fire, when she discovered me, and evidently took her aback by my presence. I saw this at a glance. I saw the creature of my dream. I knew I was destined to a struggle, and I grew in strength as I looked at my dear father and mother. She took a chair, turned her back to the fire, and seated herself in the shadow. I kept my seat, and appeared to give no attention to her.

"Who are you?" inquired my father.

"What's that to you?" said she.

"Everything, if you are to stay in my house; nothing, if you are not."

"When will you tell me?"

"What you must leave my house."

"Leave the house!" exclaimed she; "I should like to see anybody here try to put me out!"

"What if I call my men and throw you out neck and heels?"

"You have not got any men; they have all gone home."

"How do you know?"

"I inquired at the last house on the road before I came here. It is Saturday night, and I was told your laborers all went home, and that you lived alone."

I glanced at my father; he was pale, but his courage ebbed not a whit. He helpless, not able to get out of his chair, and he surmised strange occurrences, for he had received not less than eighteen hundred dollars that very week from large wheat sales; and he saw what was before him. This hag was either a decoy or a man in disguise, whose object was robbery. I could see that all this was rapidly passing through my father's mind, but did not bow him the ninth part of an inch. So I sat still, as if I expected nothing but a war of words; the hag had no other quitted hood, and no doubt having clock which reached to her feet, and was belted about the body.

"You are a woman?" said father.

"Of course I am; what do you ask that question for?"

"Have you a husband?"

"Yes."

"Where does he live?"

"In Truxton."

"Well, then, if you have a husband why do you not live at home, instead of gadding about on such a night as this, a night fit only for the bands to be abroad?"

"Why do you say that?" said she.

"Why do you say that?" said she.

"Why do you say that?" said she.

"Why do you say that?" said she.

"Why do you say that?" said she.

"Why do you say that?" said she.

"Why do you say that?" said she.

and had awakened and left my bed, to go see to my father's safety, and again to conquer him in the kitchen. All the main features of the occurrence were made known to me before they took place, and by the impression they made on me, enabled me, I do not now, to save my parents' lives.

REPORTED FOR THE DAILY GAZETTE.
BY WISCONSIN STATE TELEGRAPH LINE,
Office in Union Passenger Depot.

WASHINGTON, June 13.

The house proceeded to the consideration of the resolutions reported by the committee on expenditures in the navy department, concerning the president and the secretary of the navy.

Mr. Boscawen moved to table the resolutions. Negatives, 63 against 120.

The first resolution, condemnatory of the president and the secretary of the navy, was adopted without a count of the number voting on either side.

The second resolution, that the contract made by the secretary of the navy of September, 1853, with W. C. M. Swift, for the delivery of live oak timber, was in violation of law and in a manner unusual, improper, and injurious to the public service, was adopted by yeas 119, nays 60.

The third resolution, that the distribution by the secretary of the navy of the patronage of the navy yard among members of congress in its tendency, and highly injurious to the public service—Adopted—120 against 60.

The fourth resolution—that the president and secretary of the navy, by receiving and considering the party relation of bidders for contracts with the United States, and the effect of awarding contracts pending elections, in respect to example dangerous to the public safety, and deserving the reprobation of the house, was adopted—100 against 61.

Recess to 7 o'clock.

The house reassembled at 7 P. M., when the last session of the resolution was adopted by a vote of 90 to 37. The last resolution is as follows:

Resolved, that the appointment by Secretary Taft of Daniel B. Martin, chief engineer, as a member of the board of engineers to report upon proposals for constructing machinery for the U. S. said Martin at the time being peculiarly interested in one of said proposals, is hereby censured by the house.

The senate bill amendatory of the act to ascertain and settle private land claims in California was passed.

Mr. Gurley, from the committee on printing, reported a resolution that 15,000 copies of the agricultural part of the patent office be printed for the use of the patent office, and 11,000 for distribution by the members of the house.

Mr. Clark, of Mo., moved to insert the whole number at 39,000.

Amendment adopted to, and resolution passed by 20 majority.

Mr. Gurley also reported a resolution, which was passed, to print 3,000 extra copies of the report of the regents of the Smithsonian Institute.

The greatest possible confusion prevailed throughout the proceedings. Cries frequently complained that they could not understand what was going on.

Mr. Martin, of Va., said the noise was owing to strangers being on the floor, and called on the speaker to enforce the rules.

The speaker, growling indignantly, but without producing any visible effect.

Repeated motions were made to adjourn, and one at half past 5 prevailed.

GREELEY'S LETTER.

N. Y., Saturday eve, Nov. 11, '54.

To Gov. SEWARD.—The election is over and its results sufficiently ascertained. It seems to me a fitting time to announce to you the discharge of the political part of my duty.

Myself and Greeley, by the withdrawal of the junior partner, said withdrawal to take effect on the morning after the first Tuesday in February next, and as it may seem a great presumption in me to assume that any such firm exists, especially since the public was advised more than a year ago by an editorial in the Evening Journal, formally reading me out of the whig party, that I was esteemed no longer either useful or ornamental in the concern, you will, I am sure, indulge me in some reminiscences which seem to belitt the occasion.

I was a poor young printer, an editor of a literary journal, a very active and diligent whig in a small way that was not known out of my own ward committee, when, after the great political result of 1837, was one day called to the City Hotel, where two or three strangers introduced themselves as Thaddeus Wood and Levi Benedict of Albany.

They told me that a cheap political paper of a peculiar stamp at Albany had been resolved upon, and that I had been selected to edit it. The announcement might well be deemed flattery by one who had never even sought the notice of the great, and when not known as a partisan writer, and I eagerly accepted their proposals. They asked me to fix my salary for a year. I named $1,000, which they agreed to, and I did the work required to the best of my ability.

It was work that bade no figure, but I could do it, and I did it well. When it was done we were governor and dispensing offices worth from $1,000 to $20,000 per year to your friends and companions, and I returned to my garret and my crust and by desperate battling with pecuniary obligations, heaped upon me by partners in business and the disastrous events of 1837.

I believe that it did not then occur to me that some one of these abundant places might have been offered to me without inquiry. I think it should have occurred to you. If it did occur to me, I would not have been necessary. I only know that no friend at all in— to my pecuniary circumstances, that your friends, not mine, were dispensers of your patronage here, and that such devoted companions as— and John Hoxie were lifted by you out of pauperism into independence, as I am glad I was not; and yet— from you as to my needs and means at that time would have been timely and held over in grateful remembrance.

In the Harrison campaign of 1840 I was again detailed to edit a campaign paper. I published it as well, and ought to have been contented with it, in spite of its extremely low price—its poverty was the main reason why I did not. It compelled me to hire the press-work done by the job, and high charges for extra work nearly ate me up. At the close I was still without property and in debt, but this paper had rather improved my position. Now came the great scramble of the swell mob for office, including several regiments from office, and no one of the whole crowd, though I do say it, had done so much towards the nomination and election of Gen. Harrison, as yours respectfully, but you, Gov. Seward, expected nothing, but you, Gov. Seward, sought to have asked that I might be postmaster of New York. Your asking would have been in vain, but it would have been an act of grace—not condescension.

I soon after started the Tribune, because I was urged to do so by certain of your friends and because such a paper was needed here. I was promised certain pecuniary aid, in so doing it might have been given me without cost or risk to any one. All I ever had was a loan by piece-meals of $1,000 from James Coysall. God bless the honest man! I did not ask for it. I think it is the one sole cause in which I ever received a pecuniary favor from a political associate. I am very thankful that he did not die till he was fully repaid, and let me honor his grateful recollection when the whig party, under your rule, had offices to give, my name was never thought of; but when in '42-'43 you were out of power, I was honored with the party nomination for state printer.

When we came again to have a state printer to elect, as well as to nominate, the place went to Weed as it ought, yet it was worth something to know that there was once a time when it was not deemed too great a sacrifice to recognize me as belonging to your household. So an office had not since been created on purpose to give its valuable patronage to H. J. Raymond, and enable St. John to show forth its Times as the organ of the whig state administration. I should have been still more grateful.

In 1848 your star again rose, and my best hopes were realized in your election to the Senate. I was no longer needy and had no more claim than a desire to be recognized by Col. Taylor. I think I had some claim to forbearance from you. What I received thereupon was a most humiliating lecture in the shape of a decision in the libel case of Redfield and Pringle, and an obligation to publish it in my own and other journals of your supposed firm. I thought and still think this lecture needless, cruel and mortifying.

The plaintiffs after using my columns to the extent of their needs or desires, stopped writing and called on me for the name of their assailant. I proffered to them a thoroughly responsible name. They refused to accept it unless it should prove to be one of the four or five first men when they had known from the first who it was, and that it was neither of them, they would not accept that which they had demanded. They sued me instead for money, and money you were at liberty to give them to your heart's content.

EMIGRATION.—Four hundred Norwegian emigrants arrived in Chicago on the 12th, and took passage on the Chicago & North-western railway, en route for this state, where they intend spending the remainder of their days at farming.

DESPERATE BURGLARY.—Four burglars entered the store of J. Henry & Co., jewelers at Hamilton, C. W., at one o'clock on Wednesday morning last. Mr. Henry being still up, proceeded to ascertain the cause of the noise, and was stabbed several times. His wife and son coming to his assistance, were also stabbed, but managed to hold one of the burglars till the police arrived. The rest escaped. Mr. Henry is in a precarious state. The prisoner's name is Brown, and is supposed to be from Seneca Falls, N. Y.

The Veray (Ind.) Reveller reports the drowning at Eighteen Mile Island, of a young man named Glinner, his sister, Mrs. Jacob Crim, and her little daughter twelve years old, by being run over by the steamer Jacob Strader, while crossing the Ohio in a skiff. The steamer was coming up the stream, and stopped when the pilot saw that the skiff was in danger, but the head-way was too great, and the huge boat ran over the little one, drowning all in it. The Madison Courier of Thursday evening says the bodies had been recovered, and the officers of the boat held to bail in $2,000, at Lexington, Ky., to answer.

N. P. Willis, of the New York Home Journal, and his father-in-law, Mr. Grinnell, were in Chicago on the 12th inst.

Oman City, in Nebraska, was visited by a tornado on the 4th inst. It injured the roof of the state capital building, tore down several buildings, roofs and chimneys, and did serious damage otherwise.

GOOD ADVICE.—The following rules for sustaining your local paper, are so sensible that we cannot forbear giving them place:

1st. Subscribe and pay for it. 2d. Send your writing and advertising to the office. 3d. Help and aid the paper interestingly by sending items of local interest to the editor. 4th. Do not expect the editor to call attention to your business every week for nothing. 5th. Lay aside your fears that the editor will get rich faster than his neighbors.

MENDING THE MATTER.—The Postmaster General, in answering the call concerning Mr. Fowler's defalcation, states that Mr. F.'s accounts were never legally settled during the whole term of the present administration, but were adjusted by a fictitious system in flagrant violation of the letter and spirit of the law. The excuse is, if any thing, worse than the offence.

DEMOCRACY IN GREEN.—Senator Green, of Missouri, led the assault on the home-stand bill in the senate. Here is the way he talked about "poor folks":

"What is there honest in giving my property away to some poor, infamous scoundrel? Do it if you dare! I defy you. Do it! Do it! Do it! You vote away my property to the lazzaroni—to those infamous scoundrels who won't work for a living, because you want their votes. You may get them, but they will spit on you."

COLUMBUS, Ohio, June 12.

A large and enthusiastic Lincoln meeting and torch light procession was held to-night, and the dedication of a wigwam of Wide Awakes. A pole one hundred and fifty feet in height was erected in front of the wigwam, this afternoon. A large number of delegates to the republican convention, to be held here to-morrow, have arrived. The prospect for a full convention is good.

The crops are looking very fine in this part of the country, and the indications are that the products of the farm and dairy will exceed by several thousand dollars in value the returns of any previous season since the settlement of the country.—Monroe Sentinel.

CHILD POISONED.—A bright little boy aged five years, a son of Mr. Farlow, living near the depot, died on Tuesday from the effects of eating large quantities of the root of the herb known as crow's foot. Children should not be made acquainted with plants of so powerful a nature, which at this season are unusually active.—Janeau Co. Argus.

Jacob Bismuth died in Hillsboro', on Wednesday, from the effect of a felon on his finger.—Vicksburg Citizen.

Pray, won't the Democratic party die from having thousands of felons upon its hands.—Louisville Journal.

A drunken man made a "decided hit" by running against a lamp post in front of our office last evening.—Louisville Journal.

A DOUGLAS ORGAN'S CENSUS OF VOTES.

—The Cleveland Plain Dealer makes the following calculation:

"How the votes will stand on the re-assembling at Baltimore will depend entirely upon the rule the majority may adopt in regard to delegates accredited to Richmond and Baltimore. If such delegates be ruled out, as they should be, we can safely add the last ballot for Douglas at Charleston the following:

Mississippi, (accredited to both)	7
Louisiana, (double sets)	6
Alabama, do	7
Georgia, do	10
North Carolina,	4
Massachusetts,	1
Pennsylvania,	1
Arkansas,	1
Gain	41
Add former vote	1532
Total	1683

With South Carolina out, as she has accredited her delegates to the Richmond convention only, it will take 137 votes to nominate under the two-thirds rule, leaving but 16 votes to be obtained from all the states. Of course any candidate coming within ten, fifteen, or even twenty votes of the requisite number, there would no longer be any opposition to him, and in ordinary times a candidate receiving a bare majority, as Douglas did, would be considered entitled to the nomination. Every thing depends upon the question of credentials as to an early nomination. The national committee first pass upon this matter, giving tickets of admission to such as they consider regular. At Charleston every delegate thus admitted was afterwards confirmed by the committee on credentials, and were sustained by the convention. We presume the same will be the case at Baltimore. If not, it will only delay the nomination of Douglas for a day or two. Nothing can defeat him but the Almighty."

DEATH BY LIGHTNING.—We learn from the Monroe Sentinel that a German woman named Martin, was killed by lightning in that village on Monday. It appears that her husband left her sitting upon a chest near a window, and went to carry a neighbor's child home, and on his return found his wife lying upon the chest, her head over the end of it—dead yet warm. He applied restoratives but without avail. On examination it was found that the lightning had struck the closed window and entered the room through a small aperture and thence to the person of Mrs. M. There were no marks upon the body, although her dress was perforated in several places.

DESTRUCTIVE FIRE IN BELVIDERE.—A very destructive fire occurred at Belvidere on the 12th inst. Loss $50,000—insured $25,000. It was with the greatest efforts on the part of the citizens that the fire was checked, and the remainder of the business portion of the north side saved. The fire occurred in consequence of a leak from a defective fluid lamp which took fire. This is the most destructive fire which ever visited that town. The heaviest sufferers were Neely, Woodruff, Crosby and Thompson, owners of the Union Block, their loss being $20,000, with an insurance of $12,000.

ATTEMPT TO DESTROY A RAILROAD TRAIN.—A boy, about fifteen years old, placed a tie and an old stump on the track of the La Crosse railroad, a few miles west of Portage City, on Saturday evening last. He has been arrested, and will be examined.

People who have the privilege of visiting the country represent its appearance as magnificent. Crops never looked more favorable in this state than at this time. Vegetation is very rank and is nearly a month in advance of former years. It may be a little rash to say so, but we mean to visit the country as soon as we get time.

Episcopal Sabbath School Excursion.

The excursion by this school to Madison took place yesterday, and seldom, or never, has there been a more successful one, either as regards the numbers in attendance, or in the enjoyment derived from it by the participants. At an early hour in the morning, more than one hundred found their way to the depot, and were actively engaged in preparation for the early start announced by the committee having the excursion in charge. Owing to unavoidable causes, the washing away of a portion of the track west of Madison, which threw all the trains on the road out of time, the departure of the excursion train was delayed until 9 o'clock, when twelve passenger cars completely filled started from the depot. At Madison another car loaded with the teachers and pupils of the Milton Academy, was added, and the train entered Madison at 12 o'clock with 12 cars, carrying nearly 500 persons. A committee of citizens of Madison received the excursionists, and escorted them, in procession, to the capital park, where the 14th school of this city and a large assemblage of the people of Madison were ready to welcome their Jamestown visitors. After addresses by Gov. Randall and Mr. Harepy, secretary of state, the excursionists separated into classes and groups, and under the shade of the trees in the park, enjoyed a liberally provided repast furnished by the members of the church and congregation of the school for whose benefit the excursion was arranged. The repast finished, the visitors, in company with their Madison friends, dispersed throughout the park, where swings had been prepared for the children, the capital buildings, which had been thrown open throughout for their accommodation and visitation, and various places in the city, and passed two or three hours in the manner best suited to their tastes. At four o'clock the procession was reformed in the park, and marched to the depot, where, after a brief address from the same source, a pleasant departure at the same hour in the morning, all were again in the cars and reached home soon after 7 o'clock, without the occurrence of any accident or untoward circumstance calculated to detract in the least from the enjoyment of the day.

Why not have one? Yours, respectfully,
O. W. M'NELL.

"Seeing the Elephant."

Our Jamestown friends who came in to see the "show" yesterday, were quite enthusiastic, and expressed themselves as follows:

JANESVILLE, June 13, 1860.

After seeing the elephant, the Johnston delegation assembled at the American—J. B. Penber in the chair, and D. R. Spooner secretary.

The object of the meeting having been stated in the easy eloquence of the chairman, the following proceedings were had:

Resolved—That it is a good thing to see the elephant.

Resolved—That we have seen the elephant.

Resolved—That the ladies who went with us to see the elephant, are clever fellows.

Resolved—That we hope Captain Van Amburgh will live till after harvest so that we can see the elephant again.

Resolved—That the proceedings be attended by the chairman and secretary, and published in the Jamestown Gazette.

J. B. PENBER, Chairman.

D. R. SPOONER, Secretary.

"STEALING."—Myron H. Orton, of Madison, in his speech at the ratification meeting in that city, stole Jim Burgess' hen story, and the Milwaukee Sentinel paragraphs it approvingly. That story seems destined to be purchased. It was stolen from its author, while new, by a friend in this country under very aggravating circumstances, and now one of the Orton family remorselessly appropriates it and its application.

Another story of James' was picked up by somebody "down east," and was released here on its "native heath" by Mr. Andrews, of Boston, when the Massachusetts delegation to the Chicago convention ran off into the Wisconsin ballfield.

We see only one way for the superior officer of "C. O. Loftus Martin, Lieut. Col. W. S. M., to do to save his good things and enjoy a monopoly of them. Get out a copyright, and prosecute all infringers.

THE STRAWBERRY FESTIVAL.—The festival of the ladies of Trinity church comes off this evening, at the dining room of the Hyatt House. There will be a pleasant time.

Life Insurance.

Those desiring this useful and cheapest protection for their families, can secure it in our Wisconsin company. It is already become, in reality, a state institution, having assets and persons among the best business men in all the principal towns in the state. It is a more than equal to the most "improved" insurance of the kind in existence, and is conducted as well as Wisconsin in Connecticut or any other state.

While daily demands that men should insure their lives, it also demands that they should keep their money for investment at home. Confident that our success has been more than equal to that of the most "improved" insurance of the kind in existence, and is conducted as well as Wisconsin in Connecticut or any other state.
